Scotland: Identity, Culture & Innovation

---

PROGRAMME: 10 JULY - 13 AUGUST

The Fulbright-Scotland Summer Institute is a unique educational partnership between the University of Dundee, University of Strathclyde and the US-UK Fulbright Commission with support from The Scottish Government and a host of civic Scotland partners. Ten students from universities across the United States are selected entirely on merit by competitive application and spend five weeks in Scotland during July and August for an intensive programme of lectures, seminars, cultural and study visits on the theme Scotland: Identity, Culture and Innovation. The Institute was launched in 2013. The Fulbright Program is the flagship educational and cultural exchange programme of the US Department of State designed to increase mutual understanding between the people of the United States and those in more than 160 countries.

Welcome to Scotland

We are proud to host you at the University of Dundee in the first UNESCO City of Design in the UK – a prestigious designation awarded to the city last year in recognition of our contribution to design and innovation. Our mission at the University is to ‘Transform Lives’, and you will learn about our influence and global impact spanning medicine, the sciences, arts and the humanities as one of Europe’s most innovative universities. I know that your decision to come to Dundee and Scotland will be rewarded with a rich and exciting scholarly and cultural journey. I look forward very much indeed to meeting you.

Professor Sir Pete Downes
Principal and Vice-Chancellor
University of Dundee

Innovation is at the heart of everything we do at the University of Strathclyde. Our origins lie in The Scottish Enlightenment, when we were founded as a place of ‘useful learning’, and we have evolved to become an established, leading international technological university. Our world-class research seeks innovative, practical solutions to urgent global challenges in areas such as health, energy, manufacturing and the development of prosperous, sustainable cities of the future. Our own city’s brand is “People Make Glasgow” and the same is true of our University. The entire Strathclyde community looks forward to extending a warm welcome to you during your stay.

Professor Sir Jim McDonald
Principal and Vice-Chancellor
University of Strathclyde

The Fulbright-Scotland Summer Institute will, I am confident, give you very special insights into Scotland – its universities, its culture, its diversity and its strong sense of identity. I know that you will benefit from the people you meet, the experiences you have and the knowledge you gain. Above all, I hope you develop a love of the place and wish to return soon and often.

A PLACE OF USEFUL LEARNING

The University of Strathclyde has been in the business of innovation since 1796, and today is a leading international technological university. Situated in the heart of Glasgow – one of the UK's largest cities – the University has a vibrant, international community including 20,000 students and more than 3,000 staff from 100 countries.

Strathclyde is 'a place of useful learning' and is recognised internationally for its close working relationship with global businesses, and its partnerships with industry, government and policymakers. It was named UK Entrepreneurial University of the Year 2013/14, and is among the top 20 research-intensive universities in the UK.

The University's academics are committed to working with partners to tackle global research challenges, while developing the highly skilled graduates needed by industry and the professions.

Its high-profile alumni include John Logie Baird, inventor of the world's first television; James Blyth, the wind energy pioneer; David Livingstone, the medical missionary and explorer and Henry Faulds, originator of fingerprint identification.

TRANSFORMING LIVES

The University of Dundee is one of the world's top universities and an international centre for research in medicine, life sciences, dentistry and microelectronics, art and design, digital media and space exploration.

Dundee's origins date back to 1881 when University College, Dundee was founded and became an independent university in 1967, following a 70-year relationship with the University of St Andrews. The University has more than doubled in size since 1994 and has an annual turnover of around £200 million. It is home to more than 3,000 staff and 18,000 students who have ranked it first in Scotland and among the best in the UK for student experience.

Dundee alumni include Nobel prize-winning pharmacologist Sir James Black; Lord Robertson of Port Ellen, former Secretary General of NATO; celebrity and fashion photographer Albert Watson and award-winning novelist Kate Atkinson. The City of Dundee is now the first UNESCO City of Design in the UK, and a £1 billion Dundee Waterfront regeneration project will include the magnificent V&A Museum of Design.
